PROFILE

Combination of Eastern European background and close association with Danish culture provides me with attributes of:

- Analytical mindset: employment at ATP Pension Fund as Investment Consultant has developed ability to analyze markets and evaluate potential of various investment opportunities. Through analytical thinking I am also able to assess the situation and improve complex business processes.
- Communicative and reliable person: success and reputation of my basketball career depends a lot on my ability to establish long lasting and strong relationships with various stakeholders, players and their families, club management, sponsors and my co-workers. This experience taught me importance of listening in the communication process. Moreover, openness to novelty together with communicative skills provided foundation for active integration into Danish society. Reliability characteristic is associated with my decisiveness and high tolerance for stress, obtained while working in sports' environment, which taught me importance of meeting deadlines and achieving set-up goals.
